

Dear Sir/Madam:I support Sattellite radio and what it offers. I am a veteran who served in the United States Navy for more than 13 years and now work in Law Enforcement in Northern California. As a consumer, I believe it is time to hear the people on issues such as these and not always make it a fight for those of us that want some of the luxuries without removing an arm or leg. This information is very important and delivery via satellite is optimal. There is very poor radio coverage for the hilly area that I reside in.Often, as a member of the PD, we need to respond for the Office of Emergency Services. It is conceivable that RF communications or other communications could be lost. All means are integral for continued effective communications.

Please reconsider your aim and direct your efforts towards bettering this form of communications and others.

Mr. Haymon
